MANAGER

CORRALES, Patrick (Pat) No. 45

Born in Los Angeles, California, March 20, 1941. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 200 lbs. Former catcher. Batted and threw righthanded. Lives in Arlington, Texas. Married.

Pat is new among the ranks of major league managers, but he's no stranger to managing nor to the Texas Rangers.

He served under Frank Lucchesi and Bill Hunter for more than three years as a coach before being elevated to the top spot prior to the final game of last season. He made his debut with a 9-4 victory at Seattle.

Corrales has four years of managerial experience behind him as he takes over the Rangers - two with Ponce, Puerto Rico; one with Caracas, Venezuela, and one with Alexandria, Louisiana.

He has played for a variety of managers, including Gene Mauch, Red Schoendienst, Dave Bristol, Sparky Anderson and Don Zimmer. Pat has learned something from each, but he won't be patterning himself after any of them. He'll be his own man - reasonable and rugged.

Pat's only rules for his players will be "show up on time and hustle." He expects aggressiveness, he'll play the percentages and he'll take an occasional gamble.

A crack catcher not noted for his hitting, Corrales was in the majors for nine seasons with Philadelphia, St. Louis, Cincinnati and San Diego. He knows the frustration of being a bench warmer, for he spent four years with the Reds as an understudy to Johnny Bench, his roommate during that period.

Pat will be managing at age 38 - two months older than Bobby Cox of the Braves, eight months older than Jeff Torborg of the Indians and one year older than Jim Fregosi of the Angels.

He's in the record book under "Most times awarded first base for catcher's interference." Twice in one game and six times during the 1965 season he reached first base via that method.

As a kid he learned to win. At Fresno High School, on the sandlots, in American Legion ranks he played with pretty much the same group of boys. They won everything in sight and little wonder. Four of them - Dick Ellsworth, Jim Mahoney, Dick Selma and Corrales made it to the majors.

PLAYERS

ALEXANDER, Doyle Lafayette

No. 33 P

Born in Cordova, Alabama, September 4, 1950. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Attended Jefferson State College (Birmingham, Alabama). Lives in Arlington, Texas. Married.

Doyle showed signs early in the 1978 season of returning to the form that fashioned a 17-11 record the year before to lead the Rangers in victories.

He allowed 10 earned runs in his first 17 innings but snapped out of the slump by pitching the Rangers' first shutout of the season, a six-hit, 3-0, win over the Indians.

Doyle followed with victories over Baltimore and Milwaukee. The three-game winning streak was his longest of the season.

He won his sixth game on June 23 vs. California. What followed was four losses and four no decisions. He didn't win again until August 12 when he defeated Cleveland, 6-1.

Doyle was 2-1 in his last four starts of the 1978 campaign and could have won all four. He beat Oakland, 8-3, and Seattle, 7-2, but dropped a 1-0 toughie to the A's and was not involved in the decision against the Mariners in a 4-3 Ranger victory.

Strong finishes have been his trademark over the last four years. He has a record of 19-5 down the stretch with Baltimore, New York and Texas since 1975.

BELL, David Gus (Buddy)

No. 25 3B

Born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, August 27, 1951. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in Cincinnati, Ohio. Married.

Who's on third? That has been a legitimate question in regard to the Rangers' lineup over the past seven years, their lifetime in Texas. They have paraded 29 third basemen, from five to nine a season, past their fans. The quality ranged from inept to passable, never consistent excellence.

Those who have performed at third base for Texas over that span are Sandy Alomar, Kurt Bevacqua, Dick Billings, Ed Brinkman, Larry Brown, Leo Cardenas, Mike Cubbage, Jim Driscoll, Jim Fregosi, Toby Harrah, Vic Harris, Roy Howell, Dalton Jones, Ted Kubiak, Joe Lovitto, John Lowenstein, Pete Mackanin, Elliott Maddox, Bill Madlock, Marty Martinez, Jim Mason, Dave Nelson, Nelson Norman, Ken Pape, Greg Pryor, Tommy Ragland, Lenny Randle, Bill Sudakis and Danny Thompson.

That nonsense figures to end with the installation of Buddy Bell as the Rangers' thirtieth third baseman in eight years. He brings durability to the job, averaging 141 games a season over the past seven years despite missing the month of September in 1977 because of a knee injury.

Buddy also brings competence afield and a steady bat to the Rangers. He displays a .274 lifetime batting average after seven seasons with Cleveland. Last year an assortment of six Ranger third basemen made 30 errors. Bell made half that many and he's regarded as a fellow who will snare many balls which have escaped Texas third basemen and gone for hits.

Bell is a line drive hitter with occasional power. His first homer in the majors was a grand slam against Baltimore on April 22, 1972. He since has added three other bases-loaded homers. Buddy owns a 1,000 batting average in All-Star Game competition, contributing a pinch triple in 1973. He also was named to the 1975 All-Star team but declined the honor.

Buddy's talent comes naturally. His father, Gus, was a National League outfielder for 14 years, socking 30 homers for Cincinnati in 1953.

BLANKS, LarvellNo. 16 SS-2B-3B

Born in Del Rio, Texas, January 28, 1950. Height: 5 ft. 8 in. Weight: 165 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Attended Sul Ross University (Alpine, Texas) and Mesa Community College (Mesa, Arizona). Lives in Del Rio, Texas. Married.

A covey of Rangers have adopted Texas as their nesting place, but Blanks is a native of Del Rio, near the Mexican border. A third round draft choice of the Atlanta Braves in June, 1969, he made it to the majors to stay in 1975, when he played 129 games at shortstop and 12 at second base for Atlanta.

He had five hits in as many chances against Baltimore on August 8, 1977. Ten of his 41 runs batted in that year with Cleveland were game-winners, tops on the club despite playing in only 104 games.

Born in Reading, Pennsylvania, July 5, 1953. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 180 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Graduate of West Chester State College. Lives in Birdsboro, Pennsylvania. Married.

Mike has some of the best tools of any prospect in the Rangers organization. He has a strong arm, is a good runner, can lay down a bunt and likes hard work.

He developed into a .309 hitter in 1977 with Tulsa and Tucson and really blossomed last season when he hit a lofty .331 at Tucson.

CAMPANERIS, Dagoberto Blanco (Bert)No. 19 SS

Born in Pueblo Nuevo, Matanzas, Cuba, March 9, 1942. Height: 5 ft. 10 in. Weight: 160 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in Raytown, Missouri. Married.

For the first time since he crashed the majors in 1964 Campy is confronted with the possibility of losing his regular shortstop post. His hitting tailed off badly last season and the veteran is faced with a challenge from Nelson Norman.

Campy has stolen 615 bases. Among players whose careers principally were in the post-1900 era he is sixth on the list behind Lou Brock, Ty Cobb, Eddie Collins, Max Carey and Honus Wanger. He leads active American Leaguers.

Campy has stolen 50 or more bases in a season six times, an American League record. He has stolen five bases in a game once (against Minnesota on August 1, 1976), three bases in a game 11 times two bases in a game 88 times.

He's the best in the business at plopping down a sacrifice bunt. He has had 65 of them over the past two years, leading the league both times with 40 and 25.

COMER, Stephen Michael (Steve)No. 28 P

Born in Minneapolis, Minnesota, January 13, 1954. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 207 lbs. Bats left and right. Throws righthanded. Attended the University of Minnesota. Lives in Excelsior, Minnesota. Single.

Perhaps the longest of long shots currently in the major leagues. Steve wasn't drafted in June, 1976, when 786 youngsters were selected. That adds to total neglect by the Nation's swarm of baseball scouts.

But things happened. The Rangers were short of pitchers for their Florida Instructional League team in Sarasota and Manager Joe Klein telephoned Scout Joe Marchese for quick help. Marchese, in turn, called Pete Kramer, a bird dog scout. Kramer put in a call for Dick Siebert, Steve's University of Minnesota baseball coach, to acquire Comer's telephone number.

It didn't take much persuasion for Comer to head for Florida. It was chilly in Minnesota and Steve had been working on a construction crew picking up scrap lumber.

Comer took it from there in what amounts to a Cinderella story. He won seven, lost two, with Sarasota, compiling an 0.90 earned run average. Then, in 1977, he had a 13-10 record with Tulsa and Tucson. He was invited to spring training with the Rangers last year mainly to provide batting practice fodder. He opened some eyes by striking out 11 in nine innings.

The long shot made it to the majors. In his first 15 relief appearances he displayed an 0.90 earned run average, then on July 17 at Baltimore he was trusted with his first start. It would be nice to report that he won. He didn't, but he went nine scoreless innings against the Orioles, permitting four hits, before Reggie Cleveland took over and won, 2-0, in 11 innings.

He wound up with 11 wins, five defeats, a glowing 2.30 ERA, and the respect of the league's hitters. He had shutouts over Minnesota and Oakland. He won eight of his last 10 decisions. The University of Minnesota product who was shunned now could make any major league club, but the Rangers will be elated to keep him.

Born in Bonham, Texas, October 25, 1955. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Attended Grayson County Junior College (Denison, Texas). Lives in Bonham, Texas. Married.

Ignored by everybody in the January, 1976, draft, that same May Darwin attracted some 30 major league scouts to watch him pitch for Grayson at Ranger Junior College. He was wild and wretched, yielding nine runs in 3 2/3 innings.

He had been clocked at 94 miles per hour earlier and it didn't take long for scouts to learn about it. Lee Ballanfant, Joe Klein and Hal Keller of the Rangers scouted him and despite that poor performance he was signed by Texas the next day for a sizeable bonus.

Danny was 6-3 with Asheville that season, then 13-4 at Tulsa with a 2.51 earned run average before slumping to an 8-9 mark with Tucson last year.

Promoted to the Rangers in September, he was staked to one start and fanned the first four Seattle batters he faced. He struck out seven in six innings and gained a 4-3 win with relief aid by Jim Umbarger, thus is 1-0 in the majors.

No. 17 P

Born in Los Angeles, California, March 11, 1945. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 203 lbs. Bats left and righthanded. Throws righthanded. Attended Harbor Junior College, Wilmington, California. Lives in Arlington, Texas. Married.

Dock made only four appearances after July 18 due to a groin injury last year. He had a 7-3 record through June, but was 2-4 for the remainder of the season. He was incapacitated from July 19 through August 20, a period when the Rangers dropped from 3½ games back of Kansas City to 6½ games back.

A healthy Dock could be a boon to the Rangers. He had a 19-9 season with Pittsburgh in 1971, was 17-8 with the New York Yankees in 1976 and carries a 134-107 major league record into 1979.

He has played under eight managers in the past two seasons with the Yankees, Oakland and Texas. He was under Billy Martin with the Yankees. Then he went to Oakland, where he pitched for Jack McKeon and his successor, Bobby Winkles. Then, also in 1977, he saw Frank Lucchesi, Eddie Stanky, Connie Ryan and Bill Hunter parade past him at Texas. And Pat Corrales took over from Hunter last year.

With the Rangers he has been 19-13. He won 13 games in a row with the Pirates in 1971, tying a club record set by Deacon Phillippe in 1910. He ran up a seven game winning streak with the Yankees in 1976 and closed with five straight wins for the Rangers in 1977.

Dock has been with a division winning club six of his last nine years and twice made it to the World Series, with the Pirates in 1971 and the Yankees in 1976.

ELLIS, John Charles (John)

No. 9 C/Coach

Born in New London, Connecticut, August 21, 1948. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 210 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Attended Mitchell Junior College. Lives in East Lyme, Connecticut. Married.

John has seen the game from many angles. He's been a starting catcher, backup catcher, first baseman, designated hitter and pinch hitter. He's a street-wise veteran of nine years who will assume the title of player-coach for Manager Pat Corrales in 1979. Ellis will be responsible for the bullpen.

He spent the 1978 season coming off the bench and had some measure of success offensively. He hit in 10 of 12 games in a mid-season streak and hit .367 in his last 30 at bats.

John is starting his fourth year with the Rangers. He sustained a broken ankle 11 games into his first season with the Rangers and the injury has nagged him ever since.

Born in Evergreen Park, Illinois, October 18, 1949. Height: 6 ft. 5 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in Santa Monica, California. Married.

Ed will be pitching for his sixth major league club if he remains as a relief pitcher with the Rangers this spring. Last year he appeared in 55 games with Spokane and three more with the Milwaukee Brewers, picking up a win and a save in his brief stint with them.

He sparkled with St. Rita High School in Chicago. Pitching in the state scholastic All-Star game he walked the first three batters in the first inning, then struck out the next nine. In a spring exhibition game at age 18 in 1968 he fanned eight California Angels in four innings.

Born in Escondido, California, March 9, 1955. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 160 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in Rancho Cordova, California. Single.

The Rangers plucked Steve from ranks of 1976 June free agents in the second round and he immediately went to work on a 19-6 record in his first two years in the Texas organization. He was 15-5 at Asheville in 1977 and was named to the Western Carolinas League All-Star team.

He pulled a hamstring in spring training and was plagued by the injury the entire 1978 season. He appeared in only seven games with a 1-2 record.

GAMBLE, Oscar CharlesNo. 12 OF

Born in Ramer, Alabama, December 20, 1949. Height: 5 ft. 11 in. Weight: 165 lbs. Bats lefthanded. Throws righthanded. Lives in Montgomery, Alabama. Married.

Oscar will be playing for his seventh major league team this year, having previously seen service with the Cubs, Phillies, Indians, Yankees, White Sox and Padres.

Quite naturally, the Rangers are hoping for the same sort of season he provided with the White Sox in 1977, when he batted .294 with 31 home runs and 83 runs batted in. He and Richie Zisk supplied much of the punch which made Chicago an exciting club.

Despite dropping off to seven home runs last year, Gamble has averaged 18 of them for the past six seasons. He figures to see a lot of duty as the Rangers' designated hitter this year.

TRIPLE PLAYS

The Rangers have been involved in two triple plays - one by them and one against them. On August 8, 1977, in the second game of a doubleheader with Oakland at Arlington Stadium, Roger Moret opened the fifth inning by walking Mitchell Page and Rich McKinney. Manny Sanguillen then slapped a grounder to Toby Harrah, who stepped on third base and fired to Bump Wills, who made the force, then relayed to Mike Hargrove at first base to complete the Rangers' only triple play in history. The Rangers won, 3-0.

The triple play against the Rangers also materialized at Arlington Stadium on August 13, 1972, with Kansas City pulling it off under unusual circumstances. With Dick Bosman on second base and Elliott Maddox on first, Harrah tapped in front of the plate. Catcher Ed Kirkpatrick threw to Paul Schaaf for the force on Bosman at third. Schall's throw to Cookie Rojas, covering first base, nailed Harrah. When Maddox tried to scoot from first to third on the play he was out on Rojas' return throw to Schaaf. The Rangers won the game, 13-4.

GRAY, Gary George (Gary)No. 23 1B

Born in New Orleans, Louisiana, September 21, 1952. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 203 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Attended South-eastern Oklahoma State. Lives in LePlace, Louisiana. Single.

Gray continues to pile up impressive credentials as he waits his turn for a spot on the Rangers' major league club. He hit .316 at Tucson in 1978 and has never been below .300 in his five minor league seasons. He also hit 13 homers and drove in 98 runs last season.

He spent 10 weeks with the Rangers in 1978, when he was summoned from Tucson on July 21. He hit his first major league homer in his third game when he connected off Milwaukee's Andy Replogle.

His second and final homer of 1978 was a memorable one for Gray and the loyal fans who were around at the end to witness the blast on August 6.

Cleveland had taken a 2-1 lead going into the bottom of the ninth. With two out and none on, many of the Rangers' fans had headed for the exits. But Mike Hargrove gave the Rangers life with a single and Gray was called on to pinch hit for Bert Campaneris. Gary cracked a drive off Rick Waits that hit the leftfield foul pole for a two-run homer and a 3-2 Ranger victory.

He was a Texas League All-Star in 1976 after a collegiate baseball career at Southeastern Oklahoma State. He also lettered in football and baseball at Godchaux High School in Reserve, Louisiana.

Born in Chatham, Ontario, Canada, December 13, 1943. Height: 6 ft. 5 in. Weight: 210 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in Blenheim, Ontario, Canada. Married.

Fergie will be pitching at age 35 this season, but diminished proficiency hasn't been detected in Texas. He was 18-8 with the Rangers last year and over three years with Texas he has compiled an enviable 60-38 record.

He was the main man in elevating the Rangers to better things. After a horrendous first two years in Arlington, the Rangers acquired Jenkins and he was the tonic they needed. He won 25 games in 1974, the Rangers topped the million mark in attendance for the first time and became competitive with a second place finish.

Fergie has amassed 44 shutouts and his 2,606 strikeouts rank him ninth on the all-time list. He yields 1.80 bases on balls every nine innings, so he doesn't invite trouble. He has won 20 or more games seven times. Jim Palmer of Baltimore is the only active pitcher to accomplish that feat eight times.

He has fanned 10 batters eight times with the Rangers, but he achieved a high of 14 with the Chicago Cubs on two occasions.

Fergie has spent 13 full seasons in the majors and has averaged 18 wins a year over that span. Only Gaylord Perry and Jim Kaat, both five years older, have more lifetime victories among active pitchers.

A Canadian farmer, Fergie is an avid hunter and fisherman. When he isn't pitching for the Rangers he's likely to be snagging bass at a nearby lake.

A new 1979 statistic gives credit to batters for a game-winning run batted in. The statistic will be determined on the basis of "the RBI that gives a club the lead it never relinquishes."

JORGENSEN, Michael (Mike)No. 35 1B-OF

Born in Passaic, New Jersey, August 16, 1948. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 192 lbs. Bats and throws left-handed. Attended St. John's University. (Jamaica, N.Y.). Lives in Arlington, Texas. Married.

Mike has a reputation for fancy fielding around first base and his list of credits includes a Gold Glove and a spot on The Sporting News National League All-Star fielding team while at Montreal in 1973.

He came to the Rangers from Oakland as a free agent in 1978 after stops in the National League at New York and Montreal. Most of last season was spent as a late-inning replacement for regular first baseman, Mike Hargrove. Hargrove's departure to San Diego leaves Jorgy as one of the leading contenders for the first base job.

He had fewer than 100 at bats in 1978 but managed to put together a five-game hitting streak and added a pair of game-winning hits. His only home run came on the last day of the season in Seattle off Jim Colborn.

The Texas Rangers will play the San Diego Padres in the annual Hall of Fame Game at Cooperstown, N.Y., on Monday, August 6.

KERN, James Lester (Jim)No. 41 P

Born in Gladwin, Michigan, March 15, 1949. Height: 6 ft. 5 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats and throws right-handed. Attended Delta Junior College (University Center, Michigan). Lives in North Ridgeville, Ohio. Married.

The Rangers had bullpen problems in 1978, but with the addition of Sparky Lyle and Kern over the winter their difficulties in that department figure to be solved.

Kern piled up 46 saves in his last three seasons with Cleveland, including 13 last year. His 18 saves in 1977 represent a record for an Indian righthander.

Jim can smoke 'em, as attested by his 363 strikeouts in 396 innings in the majors. He struck out 182 in 166 innings with San Antonio in 1973 and he whiffed 220 in 189 innings with Oklahoma City in 1974. In his minor league career, spanning six seasons, he struck out 776 in 733 innings. He pitched a seven-inning no-hitter for Reno vs. San Jose in 1971.

He pitched one inning in the 1977 All-Star Game, fanned Dave Parker and George Foster, then got Greg Luzinski on an easy grounder. He broke in as a starter in the majors, losing a 1-0 sparkler to Baltimore's Mike Cuellar in 1974, then emerged as one of the game's best firemen in 1976.

LYLE, Albert Walter (Sparky)

No. 38 P

Born in Reynoldsville, Pennsylvania, July 22, 1944. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Lives in Demarest, New Jersey. Married.

There is little mystery as to what Sparky Lyle will throw when he arrives on the scene. Quite frequently it's a hard slider, but batters who guess correctly with him still have their problems. Lyle's 2.55 earned run average after 12 years in the majors is testimony that his method of challenging hitters is effective.

Lyle has pitched in 680 games and never has started in the majors. He has compiled 194 saves since that statistic became part of the game in 1969 and that's more than anybody. The 1977 Cy Young Award winner is the only relief pitcher ever to capture that honor in the American League.

Sparky led the American League with 35 saves in 1972 and 23 in 1976. He has a 79-57 lifetime record in five years with Boston and seven with the Yankees. He averaged 20 saves in his seven seasons with New York and was named as the relief pitcher on the All-Time Yankee team.

Over the past four years he has averaged giving up a home run every 22 innings. He recorded five saves in five successive appearances with the Yankees in 1977 from June 2 through June 11. That same season, from August 17 through September 11, he posted seven saves and four wins in 13 appearances.

Sparky thrives on pressure. In six Championship Series games and four World Series games he displays a 1.89 earned run average.

MATLACK, Jonathan Trumbour (Jon)

No. 32 P

Born in West Chester, Pennsylvania, January 19, 1950. Height: 6 ft. 3 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Attended University of Pittsburgh and West Chester State College. Lives in Arlington, Texas. Married.

His 2.30 earned run average was second best in the majors, but a 15-13 record doesn't inspire excitement. It wasn't Jon's fault there wasn't a parade in his honor, for granted only three runs in five games he would have emerged from the 1978 season with a 20-8 mark.

Jon was involved in four 2-1 games and one 2-0 game which went the wrong way. In 35 outings he had two horrendous times of it, yielding 13 earned runs in 6.2 innings on those occasions. Otherwise his ERA would have been 1.91.

He had a freakish sort of season. He had a 12-3 record at Arlington Stadium, but was 3-10 on the road. He rebounded nicely from a 7-15 record and a 4.21 ERA with the New York Mets in 1977, reducing his lifetime earned run average to 2.92 after seven full seasons.

Jon pitched shutouts against California and Chicago, boosting his lifetime total to 28. He led the National League with seven shutouts in 1974, then tied for the lead with six blankings in 1976 while with the Mets.

He pitched a one-hitter against Houston on July 10, 1973, and another one against St. Louis on June 29, 1974. His shutout against California was a two-hitter, his second in the majors. The other was against Los Angeles on August 8, 1973.

Matlack was voted National League Rookie Pitcher of the Year in 1972 by The Sporting News and the Baseball Writers' Association of America after posting a 15-10 record and a 2.32 ERA.

He is highly proficient, needs only a few runs to become superbly spectacular.

Fergie Jenkins has been the only Ranger pitcher to bat since the designated hitter rule was adopted in 1973. The Rangers did not use a designated hitter in the final game of the 1974 season against the Twins at Minnesota. Jenkins batted twice against Jeff Hughes, struck out and singled. Thus the Rangers' pitching staff is batting .500 for the past six years.

NORMAN, Nelson Augusto

No. 4 SS

Born in San Pedro de Macoris, Dominican Republic, May 23, 1958. Height: 6 ft. 2 in. Weight: 160 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Lives in San Pedro de Macoris. Single.

Norman has exceptional fielding ability - excellent hands, fine range and a strong arm - and at age 20 he's being asked to step in and take over as the Rangers' regular shortstop.

He showed progress at the plate last season, batting .284 with Tucson of the Pacific Coast League, and the consensus is that if he hits within 50 points of that in the majors he'll be valuable.

The slender Dominican has played only three full seasons as a professional but top flight scouts say he can make the unbelievable play seem routine.

MEDICH, George Francis (Doc)No. 42 P

Born in Aliquippa, Pennsylvania, December 9, 1948. Height: 6 ft. 5 in. Weight: 227 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Graduate of University of Pittsburgh. Lives in Pittsburgh. Married.

The art of throwing a baseball retreated to relative insignificance last July 17 in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium for Doc Medich and hundreds of early arrival fans.

Doc was running wind sprints in the outfield when the public address announcer requested immediate medical assistance in Section 7. He dashed to the scene and found 61-year-old Germain Languth pulseless and non-breathing. The doctor-pitcher immediately initiated cardiopulmonary resuscitation while Baltimore paramedics were en route.

The paramedic ambulance carried advanced life support equipment and drugs and Medich revived the patient, who was stabilized at the stadium, then transported to Union Memorial Hospital. Mr. Languth walked out of the hospital less than three weeks later.

It's nothing new for Doc, who was on hand at Shea Stadium in 1975, when Hall of Famer Whitey Ford had a heart attack while pitching batting practice. Witnesses claimed the poised Medich meant the difference between life and death for Ford.

Those who have viewed such instances always will place Medich in a special niche and always root for him as a man and as a pitcher. He doesn't do too badly in that latter category, either. Five of his six full seasons in the majors have been winning ones.

Doc averaged 16 wins a year his first three seasons with the New York Yankees. He had an outstanding rookie year in 1973, when he had a 14-9 mark with a 2.95 earned run average, fifth best in the league. He was a 19-game winner in 1974, when he won five straight complete games in July.

There is no off-season leisure for Doc, a second year resident in general surgery at Pittsburgh's Allegheny General Hospital. The hours become easy only when he reports for spring training.

Only two inside-the-park home runs have been hit in Arlington Stadium, both in 1974. Pat Kelly of Chicago did it on May 22 against Fergie Jenkins and the late Danny Thompson of Minnesota did it on June 24 against David Clyde.

The Rangers have hit four inside-the-park homers, all on foreign fields. Three of them came in 1977 - Ken Henderson at Chicago on April 30 and Toby Harrah and Bump Wills at New York on August 27. Those last two came on successive pitches by Ken Clay.

Last year John Lowenstein contributed an inside-the-park homer at Chicago on June 14 against Ron Schueler.

OLIVER, Albert, Jr. (Al)No. 0 OF

Born in Portsmouth, Ohio, October 14, 1946. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 203 lbs. Bats and throws lefthanded. Attended Kent State University. Lives in Arlington, Texas. Married.

Al's .324 batting average was the best ever compiled by a Ranger and the third best average in the majors last season behind Dave Parker's .334 and Rod Carew's .333. He was named to United Press International and Associated Press American League teams, was voted the Rangers' Player of the Year by writers who cover the club and the Rangers' Most Valuable Player by the Dallas-Ft. Worth Sports Media Association.

Despite missing a month (mid-June to mid-July) with pulled muscles in his left rib cage, Al set a club record with 35 doubles. He also supplied five triples, 14 home runs and batted in 89 runs while playing a superb left field.

A confident, articulate athlete, the well-dressed Oliver has 1,660 career hits, most among players 32 years of age or younger, surpassing Johnny Bench last year. He boosted his lifetime batting average to .299 last season. If he can nudge it up another point this year he'll join an exclusive fraternity of active players who have career .300 averages.

Al contributes heavily with his consistency. He batted .310 or better against nine teams, with a top mark of .393 against Minnesota. A solid team man with a positive approach, he remains aloof from controversy while conducting himself as a gentleman.

Oliver was batting a league-leading .360 with Pittsburgh in 1976 at the All-Star Game break and led the National League in hitting most of that season before being shelved by an inner ear infection.

PUTNAM, Patrick Edward (Pat)No. 18 1B

Born in Bethel, Vermont, December 3, 1953. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 214 lbs. Bats left. Throws right. Graduate of Miami Dade North Community College. Attended South Alabama University. Lives in Ft. Myers, Fla. Single.

He has done it all in the minors, now is ready for the big test. In his last three years in the minors, two of them at the Triple-A level, Pat has averaged batting .325, swatting 20 homers and contributing 113 runs batted in.

Putnam was voted Minor League Player of the Year for 1976 while playing with Asheville, N.C. He was the first fellow in 40 years to capture that honor while playing for a Class A club. He led the Western Carolinas League with a .361 average, 24 home runs and 142 runs batted in.

Promptly elevated to Tucson for the Pacific Coast League, Putnam batted .301 in 1977 and .309 last season, displaying impressive across-the-board statistics both years. He saw brief service with the Rangers, a total of 31 games, each of the last two years.

With Mike Hargrove traded to San Diego, first base is wide open on the Rangers and Pat is a prime contender.

Born in Lebanon, Oregon, February 17, 1951. Height: 6 ft. 4 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Attended the University of Oregon. Lives in San Diego, California. Married.

On June 7, 1972, Dave Roberts packed away his Oregon University uniform, signed a contract with San Diego and found himself in the Padres lineup on the same day.

A .410 batting average and selection to the 1972 All-America squad made him one of the top collegiate players in the country. He hit five homers his rookie year in the National League and followed with 21 homers and 64 RBI's in 1973. He was plagued with back problems in 1974.

Although his entire playing career has been in the San Diego organization, Roberts was the property of Toronto following the 1976 season. He was sold to the Blue Jays on October 22, 1976 and traded back to the Padres for pitcher Jerry Johnson, February 17, 1977.

In their seven-year history the Texas Rangers have pitched 94 shutouts and they have had 80 shutouts pitched against them. They started with an 8-27 deficit in 1972, but in the past six years they have shown an 86-53 profit.

Fergie Jenkins leads the Rangers in shutouts with 14. Bert Blyleven had 11 and Gaylord Perry 10.

Born in Roanoke, Virginia, April 2, 1955. Height: 5 ft. 9 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Attended Madison College. Lives in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Single.

"This is the finest young hitter it has been my privilege to watch." So says Hal Keller, the Rangers' former farm director, who participated in the scouting, signing and early development of Rod Carew and Bill Madlock, both major league batting champions.

Sample hit the first pitch he saw in the majors for a single off Milwaukee's Jerry Augustine and in eight games with the Rangers in the late going he batted .467 (7-15). He's a natural with a bat in his hands, as attested by the fact that .348 is his lowest mark in three years as a pro.

Bill led the Florida Gulf Coast League in 1976 with a .382 average. Leap-frogged to Tulsa the following season, he thumped at a .348 pace and last year with Tucson of the Pacific Coast League he batted .352. His 141 runs shattered the Pacific Coast League record by 20.

At the same stage of development (2½ years as a pro), Sample is ahead of Carew in every offensive category. He'll be playing at age 24 and the future appears bright.

SUNDBERG, James Howard (Jim)No. 10 C

Born in Galesburg, Illinois, May 18, 1951. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 196 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Attended the University of Iowa. Lives in Arlington, Texas. Married.

Sunny Jim won a third successive Gold Glove and was named to The Sporting News American League team in balloting by players. He also established a club record by hitting safely in 22 straight games and was a .300 hitter through mid-August.

Jim's defensive ability is accentuated in the matter of stolen bases. In the last two seasons 112 runners have stolen against him and 116 have been thrown out. Thus Jim whipped out 51 per cent of those who took off against him. Over the same period other American League catchers erased 38 per cent.

Sundberg's all-around defensive slickness is shown in comparison with other standouts, Thurman Munson of the Yankees and Carlton Fisk of the Red Sox. Here's the breakdown over the last three years:

Sundberg	PO	A	DP	E
1978	769	91	14	3
1977	801	103	12	5
1976	719	96	11	7

1977	779	69	7	11
1976	649	73	9	12
Totals	2162	232	29	40

That's an across-the-board sweep in every department every year for Sundberg, who in his five years with the Rangers has picked 28 runners off first base, 10 off second base and one off third base.

Born in Burbank, California, February 17, 1953. Height: 6 ft. 6 in. Weight: 200 lbs. Bats and throws left-handed. Graduate of Arizona State University. Lives in Tempe, Arizona. Single.

Jim earned a spot on the Rangers' pitching roster with a superb performance in spring training last season. He allowed just 10 hits in 14 innings and had a nifty 1.93 ERA.

He was the only Ranger pitcher to defeat New York in Yankee Stadium last season. He pitched a complete game and emerged with a 9-5 victory. He pitched six innings of relief in his last three games of the 1978 season and registered a save and did not allow a run.

Jim is a graduate of Arizona State University and helped the Sun Devils to second place finishes at the NCAA tournament in 1973 and 1974.

WILLS, Elliott Taylor (Bump)No. 1 2B

Born in Washington, D.C., July 27, 1952. Height: 5 ft. 9 in. Weight: 177 lbs. Bats right and left. Throws right. Attended Arizona State University. Lives in Arlington, Texas. Married.

Bump established a Ranger record with 52 stolen bases last season, good for third in the American League and fourth in the majors behind Pittsburgh's Omar Moreno (71), Detroit's Ron LeFlore (68) and Seattle's Julio Cruz (59).

With Bobby Bonds contributing 43 steals and Toby Harrah adding 31 more, the Rangers set a club mark of 196 stolen bases, surpassed only by Kansas City's 216 and Pittsburgh's 213.

Wills struggled at the plate most of the season and was batting only .229 as late as September 4, but he spurted in his last 27 games. He hit .351 (34-97) over that span to elevate his season average to .250.

He made Topps and Baseball Digest major league rookie teams in 1977, when he participated in one of baseball's rarities on August 27 at Yankee Stadium. After Harrah smacked an inside-the-park homer off Ken Clay in the seventh inning. Wills drilled another inside-the-park homer off Clay on the next pitch.

Bump was the Rangers' No. 1 choice in the January, 1975, draft and rose rapidly to the majors. His father, Maury, stole 104 bases with the Dodgers in 1962.

ZISK, Richard Walter (Richie)No. 22 OF

Born in Brooklyn, New York, February 6, 1949. Height: 6 ft. 1 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Attended Seton Hall University. Lives in Lighthouse Point, Florida. Married.

Richie broke in with a bang with the Rangers - a ninth inning blast over the leftfield wall off Rich Gossage to provide Jon Matlack a 2-1 triumph over the Yankees on opening day at Arlington Stadium last year. He also had injected a first inning single off Ron Guidry to provide the Rangers their other run.

He cracked seven home runs and batted in 19 runs in his first 17 games but other Rangers weren't keeping pace. Despite Richie's heroics the Rangers lost eight in a row after taking two of three from the Yankees to start the season. When they snapped that streak on April 23 at Detroit it was Zisk who provided the winner with an eleventh inning homer in a 2-1 tussle.

Richie supplied the Rangers with 17 game-winning blows, seven more than his nearest challengers, Bobby Bonds and Toby Harrah. He smashed 22 home runs and batted in 85 runs despite missing a lot of time. He played for two weeks with a bad wrist, then learned it was sprained and was forced to sit out three more weeks in late July and early August.

Zisk has averaged 24 home runs and 92 runs batted in over the past three years, enjoying his best year with the White Sox in 1977 when he belted 30 homers and batted in 101 runs.

He was named to The Sporting News National League team in 1974, when he batted in runs in 10 consecutive games. That missed by one of tying the National League record set by Mel Ott in 1929.
